'Pig' No Slur in D.C.

By TERRY DAVENPORT

Who says police officers don't have a sense of humor?

Even members of the Daly City Police Department, known for being one of the most militant around, don't flinch at being called "pigs."

"We all know that P-I-G stands for pride, integrity and guts," says Sgt. Tom Reese with an oink.

Like many of Daly City's finest, Sgt. Reese often wears a pig tie tac on the navy blue tie that's part of his uniform. Until it broke, he wore a watch emblazoned with a tiny swine.

He has a small metal pig on his desk that he says was a gift from a friend who used to work for U.S. Steel. "That's pig iron," he chuckles.

On his wall is a sketch of an obese, frowning pig, complete with bowtie, pincenez — and a police hat.

But friends have a way of rubbing it in. Lt. Jim Barron has a huge statue in his office of pig painted in glowing silver, yellow and orange.

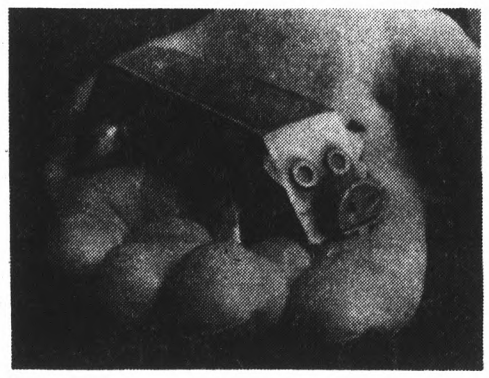
Officer Neil Hammerman has the biggest collection of pigs in the department, including these five tie tacs. The middle one reads, "Pride, Integrity and Guts." The one at the upper left says, "MCP."



A friend told Lt. Jim Barron that this pig reminded him of Barron.

19 More Oppose Naming Street for Doelger

Nineteen Daly City residents have asked the City Council to nix the idea of renaming a street or park in the city after veteran developer Henry Doelger, who died last summer.

In a letter that the council members received Monday night, the residents write, "As far as we can see it, Mr. Doelger developed the western part of Daly City for one purpose, to make money, a lot of it, which enabled him, among other things, to live on his yacht on the Mediterranean Sea. Hardly a reason to name a street, a park or whatever after him."

It was written in response to a request at a recent council meeting by a longtime friend of Doelger's, Al Belotz. Belotz asked the council to rename John Daly Boulevard or some other part of the city after the developer.

The residents reminded the council that John Daly Boulevard, until a few years ago, was called Alemany Boulevard.

The name was changed, they say, "...because apparently the council thought at that time that John Daly was worthy to have a street named after him. Isn't he any more?"

John Daly was the city's founder.

The letter writers also point out that street name changes are a waste of public funds.

The last two-thirds of the letter is devoted to attacking the council's decision to refer the matter to the Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association (along with the city's History, Arts and Science Commission.)

The residents say, "If the council is interested in the opinion of the Westlake property owners on this matter, the council would be advised to contact them individually, for instance, by including a questionnaire with the water bill. The WSIA does not represent the property owners. The present board was re-elected by 494 votes out of 6,520 households; that amounts to 7.6 percent."

The association has been criticized for its enforcement of the mandatory "covenants and restrictions" that govern the appearance of all Westlake homeowners' property.

Among its most ardent critics are Hanna and Donald McEvoy, whose address appears at the top of the letter and whose signatures are among those at the end of the letter.

The McEvoys are appealing a court case that the association won against them. The case centered on a tree and a fence that the McEvoys put on their property, in violation of the convenants and restrictions.

In response to the letter, Mayor William Schumacher said Monday night that the council has not made up its mind on whether any name change will take place.

"We decided to refer this to all interested parties. I'm glad they're interested, too," he noted.

Westlake Unit Votes to Keep Rules on Care

For the second time this year, homeowners in one of Westlake's subdivisions have voted to continue the regulations that govern the appearance of their property.

Despite an organized campaign by local residents who favor lifting the covenants and restrictions, as they are called, the final tally on Saturday night was 10 in favor of continuing them and 10 in favor of eliminating them.

A simple majority of the 82 eligible voters in Subdivision 6-B was required to end the regulations.

The vote mirrored the January balloting in Subdivision 6-A, which became the first portion of Westlake to challenge the rules set up by Henry Doelger when he built Westlake following World War II.

In Subdivision 6-A's Jan. 27 election, 20 persons said they wished to end the restrictions and another 20 favored continuing them. A total of 143 residents were eligible to vote in that election.

Subdivision 6-B's vote means that the convenants and restrictions are automatically extended through Feb. 11, 1989.

Subdivision 6-B's vote means that the convenants and restrictions are automatically extended through Feb. 11, 1989.

Representing the Westlake Subdividions Improvement Association, the organization that enforces the restrictions, William Wade said he interpreted Subdivision 6-B's vote as "slightly encouraging" because it showed that 12 percent of the home-

NO FOUNDATION TO RUMORS

(Dave Dornlas Photo)

Contrary to rumor, this pile of pipes sitting on the vacant lot across from Colma City Hall won't be used to build the K-Mart store that is planned for the site. The pipes are part of Colma's water system improvement project. Although E. N. Maisel and Associates of Michigan still is planning to build a K-Mart there, construction awaits the approval of several city permits. A company spokesman said the developer has planned all along to have K-Marts in Colma and at the nearby Westborough Shopping Center in South San Francisco.

Mayor Seat In D.C. Isn't Sure Thing

Daly City's councilmen will take a breather from business next Monday when they select a new mayor and mayor pro tempore.

If the council follows the seniority rotation system of selecting the new officers, the current mayor pro tempore, Victor Kyriakis, will be elected mayor and Councilman Anthony Giammona will become mayor pro tempore.

But the council has ignored tradition enough times to make city officials leery of predictions. Before he became mayor last year, William Schumacher was bypassed twice when his turn came for the office.

At the meeting, the council

The Right Day for the Right News

It was fitting news for a city council that had just proclaimed April 28 as "Keep America Beautiful Day."

Kenneth Johnson of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. told the Daly City City Council Monday night that his company probably will be able to fund all of the wire undergrounding projects on the city's drawing board.

Johnson, who is PG&E's district marketing supervisor, said he's certain that his company will be able to advance enough money to bury overhead electrical wires in Hillside Park and those stretching along Junipero Serra Boulevard all the way from John Daly Boulevard to 88th Street.

The state orders the electrical utility to set aside a certain amount of money each year for the undergrounding of utility wires.

The council was worried that it would have to choose between the projects — which are backed by vocal citizens' groups — or trim the scope of both.

The undergrounding is expected to cost $495,000 for the portion of Junipero Serra Boulevard between John Daly Boulevard and the freeway overcrossing, $285,000 for the section of that street between the overcrossing and 88th Street, and from $180,000 to $200,000 for Hillside Park.

Prior to Monday night's meeting, the council thought it would receive $652,000 from PG&E's undergrounding fund.

But Johnson told the council that more money is available than originally anticipated, because other cities aren't undergrounding their wires as quickly as Daly City.

If PG&E's president and the Public Utilities Commission agree, Johnson said it would be possible for Daly City to receive a three-year advance of its undergrounding funds from PG&E and, thus, complete both projects.

Asked how sure he was of that

Houses Saved From Demolition in DC

Daly City Councilman Victor Kyriakis cast the deciding vote Monday night that saved two homes in the Crocker neighborhood from demolition.

Kyriakis was absent last week when the City Council was deadlocked over the issue of clearing the city-owned houses at 941 and 985 Brunswick St. or trying to sell them.

Along with one house that is up for sale, they are the only structures blocking the way for a new city recreation area, to be called Lincoln Park. The park will be bounded by Brunswick, Winchester, Templeton and Acton streets.

Councilman James Tucker tried to persuade Kyriakis that the houses are too hazardous to leave up. Tucker explained that he recently extinguished a fire that vandals apparently set in one vacant home.

Another home was a total loss because of a fire that firemen think vandals set.

Mayor William Schumacher said the selling process typically "drags on and on" - often as long as six months.

But Kyriakis went along with Councilmen Tony Giammona and Albert Teglia, as he has on the issue in the past.

Giammona argued that the city could make about $2,000 from the sale of the house and also would save itself the cost of demolishing it.

Teglia said, "I hate to destroy good, sound houses."

Despite further arguments from Schumacher and Tucker, Kyriakis voted with Giammona and Teglia to put the houses on the auction block. The successful bidders will have five days in which to pay for the homes and 30 days in which to remove them from the premises.

Kyriakis added, "I think we should get Mr. Tucker a fireha

"That came from Tijuana," he says. "A friend of mine was down there and said he immediately thought of me when he saw it. It was the ugliest one he could find."

Next door, Police Clerk Barbara Moran has a pig planter, a stuffed pig doll and a pig candy dish. She sometimes wears a pig necklace.

"You should see Alice Baker's collection," Mrs. Moran says. The night dispatcher owns pig bookends, a satin pig pillow, notepaper shaped like a pig and a pig purse that zips down the back.

Capt. Roger Austen has a painted plaque of two cuddling pigs on his wall.

Detective Richard Miller has a coffee cup decorated with pigs. He shares a pig cookie jar with other officers in the detective division.

Officer Don Cubic has the ugliest pig downstairs in the crime lab. Taped to the back of the door is a large poster of a policeman with a pig's head.

Officer Neil Hammerman is the department's most serious collector of pigs. He has three pig statues on top of his file cabinet, a pig planter on his desk, a pig plaque on his wall, half a dozen pig tie tacs, a pig belt buckle and at least 25 pig figurines in a display case at home.

"Pigs just seem to be my thing," he says with a smile.

Daly City officers find that having a sense of humor about the unflattering epithet comes in handy.

Confronted with a bunch of rebellious youths who resist arrest and call him names, Sgt. Reese says he's apt to glance at his wrist, smile warmly and declare, "My pig watch says it's time for you to go to jail."

possibility, Johnson said, "I'm certain it's going to go through."

The council members beamed and the audience applauded when Johnson added that he even would be willing to ask the San Mateo County government, if necessary, for part of its undergrounding monies in order "to go all the way to 88th Street."

Schumacher said, "There are very few times we can say, 'Thank you, PG&E.'"

Other business:

HANG GLIDING — The council declared a negative environment impact finding and approved a use permit for Meri Jane Case to operate a hang glider retail sales and instruction business at 198 Los Banos Ave.

PARKING — Upon receiving a petition signed by 22 residents of Shakespeare Street, the council agreed to extend preferential parking to that street.

BICYCLE RACKS — The council authorized its staff to spend $5,000 in state funds on bicycle racks at Civic Center and other public buildings.

BEAUTIFICATION — Council members accepted the completion of the first phase of the Mission Street Beautification Project. Valentine Corp. of San Rafael will be paid $142,363 for the job, which included improving sidewalks and some curbs, adding street grates, planting trees, modifying storm drains and creating wider sidewalks at corners to create parking bays.

FIREWORKS — Thirteen local groups received 1979 licenses to sell fireworks so that other groups. One applicant, the Daly City Host Lions Club, withdrew its application.

D.C. Rec Offers Adult Swim At Westmoor

Adult swimming lesons Monday and Wednesday evenings started this week at the Westmoor High School Pool, 131 Westmoor Ave., Daly City.

The lesson program, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department, will feture classes for beginners and advanced, from 7 to 7:30 p.m. Registrants must be 16 and over. The fee is $8 for eight lessons. Registration may be completed at the pool any weekday evening, 7 to 9 p.m., or Saturday, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Recreation swimming also is available nightly and Saturday, on to these schedule: Monday (7:30-9:30 p.m.); Tuesday and Thursday (8-9:30 p.m.) Wednesday, adults only (7:30-9:30 p.m.), Friday 7-9:30 p.m.) and Saturday (1-3 p.m.)

Fees are 50 cents for youth and senior citizens and $1 for adults.

owners wished to terminate the restrictions, compared to 14 percent in Subdivision 6-A.

About 1,000 other Westlake homeowners will have a chance to vote on the restrictions this year if residents in their respective subdivisions request elections.

The next group to have an opportunity will be 'Subdivision 6-C, whose covenants and restrictions will be automatically renewed for another 10 years on March 30, unless an election is requested.

The regulations govern the appearance of homes, shrubs, trees and fences.

Westlake Field Night Lights

Charles Vincent, director of recreation, parks and maintenance, has announced today that in the near future softball players in Daly City will have a lighted diamond at Westlake Park for night play.

Scheduling of games for the 70 teams in Daly City has been effected by seasonal hours of darkness. Frequently, games had to be called off in late innings due to fading lights. This problem allowed only one evening game per week on each diamond. It now will be possible to schedule more games each evening on the lighted diamond.

Currently, plans for the lighting of the diamond are unergoing the required review by the state. On receipt of that approval, construction will begin. The project was made possible by a grant under the 1976 Recreation and Park Bond Act.

Parking Income to Continue

Plentiful parking meter fines will continue to enrich Daly City's coffers, thanks to the City Council's unanimous decision Monday night to create a permanent parking enforcement officer position.

The council's action came in response to the grim news that Daly City would lose about $8,000 in fines per month with the departure of Police Assistant Mary Glass.

Ms. Glass was hired with federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds that were due to expire Feb. 28.

Most of the city's non-moving and parking meter violations are written by Ms. Glass and Officer Rick Brewer, who spend their entire shifts ticketing cars.

At Police Chief David Hansen's request, the council Monday created the permanent position of "police assistant" at a monthly salary ranging from $867 to $995.

Although the duties of the position also will include serving subpoenas, performing station security duties, serving at the police complaint desk and directing traffic, council members emphasized that they wish the employee to spend 80 percent of his or her time writing parking tickets.

City Manager David Rowe said Daly City probably will hire someone immediately for the job. However, he said the person will be employed on a temporary basis, pending the council and Personnel Board's approval of job specifications.

Rowe said he didn't know whether Ms. Glass would be hired back or if she has accepted employment elsewhere.

Parent Training Sessions Slated

Mary's Help Hospital will offer an early pregnancy class March 10 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The class is for women prior to conception or for women who are in their first six months of pregnancy. Husbands are invited. The class will include instruction on emotional and physical changes during pregnancy, environmental and occupational hazards to the fetus, good nutrition, relaxation techniques, and exercises that relieve physical discomfort of normal pregnancy.

Windfall for DC Employees

Daly City's city employees will receive a windfall April 6.

They will be issued checks that day for the back pay they earned as a result of salary increases that were frozen last summer due to Proposition 13.

The employees will begin receiving fatter bi-weekly paychecks on the next regular payroll day, April 13.

The cost of higher salaries and benefits for city employees during 1978-79 is $379,011.

Applications for the Youth Conservation Corps now are available. The program allows students to earn money while working and living out-of-doors. This is not a typical summer camp or recreation program. For more information, contact Mr. Chun.

Work experience assignments are available in the counseling office. Be sure to contact Mrs. Meade or Mr. Chan. Assignments are due before March 30.

Last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the movie "Silver Streak" was shown at lunch, in three parts, and each part was 25 cents. Many students enjoyed this movie and thank those who made it possible.

All CSF applications must be turned in to Mr. Shurgin or Marianne Lenci. To be eligible for this club, you must be a sophomore, junior or senior enrolled in a full-time academic program. Eligibility also depends on your grades for the previous semester. An "A" is worth three points and "B" is worth one point. A "D" or "F" grade in any subject makes you ineligible.

The purpose of CSF is to honor academic students who receive good grades, to serve the school and community, to become acquainted with colleges and universities in the Bay Area, to honor life members at graduation, and to provide opportunities for life members to apply for college scholarships and other honors.

Students must attend at least three meetings to remain eligible.

LEARNING RACQUETBALL

In cooperation with the Wallbangers Court Center, 373 Gellert Blvd., Daly City, the city's Recreation Department is offering racquetball instruction for adults and junior and senior high school students. Dave George, assistant manager and instructor, is giving some lessons to Paula Davidson. The eight-week session begins March 11, and fee is $18. For information, call or write the Daly City Recreation Department.

Louanne Heath

It costs $68 to reforest one acre of U.S. Forestry land and the Daly City Garden Club will be attempting to raise that amount of money to be used for that purpose in a plant and arts and craft booth at the Serramonte Spring Community Bazaar this coming Saturday and Sunday.

Members of the club have been repotting and working on crafts which will be sold in the booth during shopping center hours. The money will then be sent to the Penny Pines Plantation fund to purchase pine trees to be planted in an area that has been eroded.

According to Mrs. Edward J. Dennis, publicity person for the garden club, members of that group are seeking community support of their effort since the acre to be purchased will be recreational land within the state boundaries.

Jane Edison, coordinator of the Senior Adult Information and Referral Service, will be the guest speaker at Monday's meeting of the Daly City chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Mrs. Servard Ojakian, publicity chairperson, reports the meeting will be in the Westlake Community Center, 145 Lake Merced Blvd. beginning at 11:30 a.m.

On Wednesday, members of the board of directors from various local chapters will attend a workshop at the Villa Chartier. Local president, Milton Locke, is scheduled to be among those attending the day-long session.

Our Lady of Mercy Parish will have its annual St. Patrick's Day dinner-dance, called "Shamrock Shenanigans," March 16 at the Daly City Parish Hall. Helping plan the event are, standing from left, Doug Wallach, Chairman Mike Millane, and Decorations Chairman Debby Fassler; seated, from left, Reservations Chairman Janet Sullivan and Chairwoman Carolynn Machi. The event will begin with a 7 p.m. cocktail hour, with dinner following at 8. Dancing to the sounds of "Gemini" will be from 9 to 1. Cost is $5.50 per person. For details or reservations call Mrs. Sullivan, 756-4071.

Mrs. Howard Poblitz, Mrs. Albert Fambrini and Mrs. Frank Lawson are co-chairing the outting and are accepting calls for reservations. Tickets are $13 per person including transportation to and from the Westlake Shopping Center, or $10 without transportation.

Antonio E. Santa Elena will discuss his new children's book, "Babba Has Golden Feathers," at the Friends of the Daly City Library book review on March 22 at 10 a.m. in the Community Room of the Serramonte Library.

Mrs. Lorraine Sandetur, the book review chairman, has arranged this review fby Santa Elena, a Daly City resident who was a newspaperman in the Philippines.

Friends of the Library members are exceeding pleased with the results of the winter book fair. A substantial sum of money was raised for the library via the sale of used books and records, according to Mrs. Virginia Tierney, FDCL president.

Assisting with the fair were Rush and Robert Mambert, Emmett Tierney, Mike Cooney, Tony Barichievich, Linc Walter, John Sullivan, Louis Filasski, Kathy Cooney, Lori Santa Elena, Janine and Joseph Riley, Jr. and the girls of Girl Scout Cadet Troop 716, Ann Affolter, Kei Brown, Heather Burtett, Yvette Dodge, Anne Formosa, Jennifer Simcox, Jennifer and Vicki Sullivan and troop leader Mrs. Trish Sullivan.

Students Explore Medical Field at MH

Twelve juniors and seniors in the Jefferson High School District are currently involved in a two-year medical careers program at Serramonte High School.

Mary's Help Hospital serves as a laboratory for some of the participants, who observe doctors, nurses and technicians in their daily functions at the hospital.

The medical careers program is an exploratory career education course for students interested in health occupation fields.

"Chances of the students getting a job in the health occupations field are increased by participation in the program. People in the health field get to know the students and find out how reliable they are," said Mrs. Muffie Calbreath, program coordinator.

In the first part of the program Mrs. Calbreath familiarizes the students with the fields of work involved in health occupations through speakers, field trips, reading assignments and films. Following that, the students learn basic working skills and observe people at work in health facilities in the community.

Jerry Guerin in the Department of Education at Mary's Help Hospital works with Mrs. Calbreath and the students in the program.

"It is valuable experience for the students to come to the hospital and get first-hand experience in the health occupations field as opposed to me simply lecturing at their school," he said. "This way they can find out what the work is all about."

The students work six hours a week at Mary's Help, with superiors in physical therapy, nursing, the laboratory and business office.

"There are no specific requirements other than that the student be highly motivated; he must want a medical career," Mrs. Calbreath said. The program is open to any junior or senior high school student in the school district.

Although the ratio of males to females usually has been about one to four, Mrs. Calbreath pointed out that more boys are becoming interested, especially in the veterinarian facet of health-related job opportunities. Mrs. Calbreath has several students in the program who are volunteering at the San Francisco Zoo to help gain experience in the veterinarian field.

Gun Test for D.C. Soldier

Pfc. David M. Divina-Garcia, son of Marcelo D. Divine-Garcia, 416 El Dorado, Daly City, recently participated in a yearly tank gunnery qualification test at the Army training area in Grafenwohr, Germany.

During the tests, tank crewmen undergo extensive day and night qualifying runs on the range to determine their individual and crew proficiency. Divina-Gracia is a supply clerk with the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment in Bad Kissingen, Germany. He entered the Army in February 1978.

Not at Arm's Length

Samuel Chandler

"Medical devices long held at arms length from the public, equipment you probably have seen only in your doctor's office or a hospital, now can be purchased as easily as an electric toaster."

As reported in Family Health in February by John Grossman, "Stethoscopes, Ostoscopes (for examining the ear), blood pressure cuffs, pregnancy-test kits, even well-stocked doctor's black bags now are being marketed vigorously for home use." Indeed, Grossman points out, the 1978 market for the over-the-counter medical devices has been pegged at $90 million with a possible ten-fold increase in the next three or four years.

The Grossman article, entitled "Do it yourself Doctoring," warns that in the production of over-the-counter medical devices "confusion is practically a by-word." The U.S. Bureau of Medical Devices is a new government agency and has not had time to issue guidelines and to test products currently for sale.

The things Grossman writes about do-it-yourself pregnancy kits and blood-testing devices are certainly worth the time a reader spends with the article.

Sooner or later you will be asked to purchase a copy of "The Ann Landers Encyclopedia A-Z" (Doubleday, $7.50). Upon examination you will find that it too is a do-it-yourself device with topics ranging from abortion to accident prevention, to therapeutic drugs, to how to live with your in-laws, to Zoonoses, which is the disease humans get from animals.

In 1,212 pages Landers advises people whose questions run all the way from how to live with a mother-in-law who laughs like a jackass to how to express indignation over news releases of senseless or deliberate killings.

Landers is at her best in the articles grouped in a section entitled "Coping." Nearly every piece in the section appeared as one of Landers' columns and contains common-sense advice in how to handle crises. Here one finds what Landers said about cremation, cosmetics, and crime, and what she wrote to parents whose children started to smoke marijuana or the hostesses who wanted to know what to do with drunken guests.

Other than Landers' own piece, the encyclopedia contains articles by some 300 authoritative contributors. While the articles are short they are to-the-point and practical in construction.

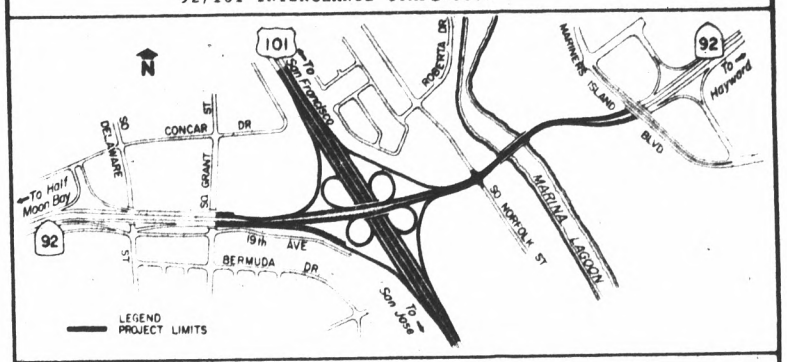
NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF DRAFT ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT STATEMENT AND PUBLIC HEARING

STUDIES FOR ROUTE 92 FREEWAY GAP CLOSURE AND ROUTES 92/101 INTERCHANGE COMPLETION



WHAT'S BEING PLANNED — The California Department of Transportation (CALTRANS) is studying the possible closure of the gap in Route 92 freeway and completion of the Routes 92/101 Interchange in the City of San Mateo. The proposed work would include elimination of an at-grade signalized intersection with a city street, reconstruction of portions of the existing interchange, construction of two new bridges across Marina Lagoon, and construction of additional roads for local service. Marina Lagoon is a recreational resource of considerable local importance and, therefore, this project would involve property protected under Section 4(f) of the Department of Transportation Act of 1966. Both of the build alternates include taking a small area of seasonal wetland as described by Corps of Engineer's regulations and Executive Order 11990.

DOCUMENTS AVAILABLE — Copies of the Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) and maps are available for inspection at the CALTRANS' Information Center, 150 Oak Street, San Francisco, on weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Copies of the DEIS are also available for inspection at the Department of Public Works, City of San Mateo, and at the main branch of the San Mateo City Library.

WHAT YOU CAN DO — If you wish to comment on the statement, you may submit your written comments until Monday, May 21, 1979, to the Department of Transportation, at the address below.

PUBLIC HEARING — A public hearing has been scheduled for Thursday, April 19, 1979, 7:30 p.m. at:

Serra High School, Auditorium
451 W. 20th Avenue
San Mateo, CA

The hearing will give you an opportunity to present your views about any facet of the project before a decision regarding the project is made.

CONTACT — For further information about the project or any transportation matter, please contact CALTRANS at 557-1040.

THE DIET CORNER

By ELISE GENDAR

What's your I.Q. food-wise?

What if you were tested on your food knowledge? Would you be able to graduate from sixth grade? Or are you still in nutritional kindergarten?

Why do you buy what you buy? If you're the average housewife consumer, surveys show that you buy in this order:

1. To please your family's tastes.
2. To stay within your budget. (at least that's what you say, but when you're offered expensive novelty or convenience foods, you're purchasing more and more.)
3. For nutrition.

That's some list of priorities.

Begin at the top. What do you do with the kid who's on a kick? The one who'll eat only the most vile-looking pre-sugared cereal on the shelf? And how about the husband who has never touched a vegetable, thank you, and intends to live his life without breaking his record?

As for the budget, it's so easy to be misled. Like those helping hand packages that claim to turn one pound of hamburger into haute cuisine. They seem inexpensive, but if you total up what the ingredients would cost, from staples on your shelves, you'll be surprise. What's more — read the labels. You're in for another surprise. You may think you're paying for food but a lot of those ingredients have nothing to do with food or nutrition.

Now there's the word we've been aiming at for some time. Nutrition. There, at the bottom of the list.

It is, I admit, the most difficult to deal with. Like the weather, we all talk about it, but very few of us serve it.

Do you know what good nutrition is? Good nutrition is including all the nutrients your body needs in your food for the day. It's done most easily by having a protein and carbohydrate with each meal plus helpings of vegetables, fruit and milk.

Are your meals nutritious? Only you can answer this.

Before you make up this week's shopping list, set your priorities in order. Try putting nutrition at the top of the heap. Shop for nutrition first. What happens can be that you'll find you spend less, please your family, and have more attractive and palatable menus all at the same time.

Here's an interesting one-dish main meal that provides balanced nutrition — a protein (chicken) high carbohydrate vegetables (tomatoes, water chestnuts, green onions) and low carbohydrates (mushrooms, celery, and lettuce.) That's a lot of nutrition in one recipe.

HOT CHINESE CHICKEN SALAD

- 1 envelope chicken bouillion
- ½ cup water
- 4-8 Ounce chicken breast, cubed
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 large tomato, cut into chunks
- 2 green onions, coarsly chopped
- ¼ cup soy sauce
- 1-4 ounce can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
- 1-4 ounce can mushrooms, sliced and drained
- 1 cup celery, slant-sliced
- 1 teaspoon M.S.G.
- 2 cups lettuce, finely shredded

Place bouillon in in skillet, and half-cup of water and quickly brown chicken. Sprinkle with garlic powder and cook until tender. Add tomato, water chestnuts, mushrooms, onion and celery. Stir. Sprinkle with MSG, add soy sauce, stir, cover, reduce heat and simmer five minutes. Lightly toss chicken — vegetable mixture with lettuce.

Good morning, good cooks.

Cookies come in all sizes, shapes and flavors. Combined with other top quality ingredients, wheat germ makes cookies with fabulous flavor and remarkable texture.

Although the kids will love them, these cookies are created for adult palates, too. One look and you'll see why these filled cookies are called "sand dollars." The buttery dough is rolled, cut into rounds and sandwiched together with a date nut filling.

WHEAT GERM SAND DOLLARS

- 1cup butter
- 1½ cups flour
- 1 cup vacuum packed wheat germ, regular or sugar and honey
- Sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup diced pitted dates, packed
- ½ teaspoon grated orange peel
- ⅜ cup orange juice
- ¼ cup chopped walnuts or almonds

Cut the one cup butter into the one and one-half cups flour. Work in the one cup wheat germ, three-fourths cup sugar and fourth-teaspoon salt. Refrigerate. Beat the half-cup dates with the half-teaspoon orange peel, third-cup orange juice, fourth-cup chopped nuts and two tablespoons sugar.

Roll the chilled dough on floured surface to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut into rounds with 2½-inch cutter. Place half of the rounds on ungreased baking sheet. Place two level teaspoons filling onto each round. Cover with remaining round. Press lightly to seal edges. Cut five slits in top to resemble sand dollars. Bake in 350-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes about two dozen cookies.

Art-Rise Continues Serramonte Series

This Thursday marks the halfway point of the Art-Rise productions at Serramonte Shopping Center. The Variety Arts Showcase performance this week stars Carl Smith and James Gillerman from 7 to 8 p.m. at the fountain court.

Smith and Gillerman will perform Renaissance and baroque western classical music, Irish folk music and jazz.

The series goes on to include Jonathan Szeles, a magician and comedian, March 15; Doba the Mime March 22; and Child's Fancy, progressive jazz group, March 29. On April 5 the series ends with a performance by The Amazing Dr. Zarcon's Breathing Machine, a jug band.

PG&E AWARDS

Pacific Gas and Electric Company employees, left to right, Evan F. Evans of Santa Rosa, Ruben Godoy of Colma and Carl Jackson of San Francisco, received the utility's John A. Britton Citations Feb. 28. The trio was honored for administering first aid that saved the life of a woman who had taken an overdose of sleeping pills last May 19. The three men heard a faint cry for help while they were connecting street lights. They located the woman in the doorway of her home, reaching her just as she collapsed. Evans ran to a nearby phone booth to call for an ambulance. Godoy and Jackson walked her back and forth in her apartment lobby to keep her conscious. Evans returned to help Godoy and Jackson keep the woman on her feet, then left to phone a second time for an ambulance. It arrived about a half-hour after the men had started the first aid treatment. The woman was taken to a nearby hospital where she recovered.

A Start on White House Stationery

By ARVILLE FINACOM

When Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Alice McLellan Birney decided to invite participants to an initial meeting of a National Congress of Mothers in Washington D.C.'s Arlington Hotel Feb. 17 to 19, 1897, it was with the consciousness-raising hope of proposing that "what is good and right for one child, was good and right for all."

Perhaps it was because the invitation reportedly was on White House stationery — after all, Mrs. Hearst's husband George was U.S. senator from California and both Hearsts counted President Cleveland a friend. Perhaps it was because the idea of child welfare was one whose time had come. Children as young as eight years of age worked a man's hours in the eastern mines and mills for less than half a man's pay. Perhaps the nation was beginning to realize that in the child lay the seeds of a brighter future. Horace Mann's ideas for free public education were sweeping the country.

No matter what the impetus, some 2,000 mothers came to that first Congress and settled on a set of goals which put child welfare before all other considerations. Thus was born the PTA, the first and still the only major non-profit organization in the world devoted solely to the welfare of children and youth.

Currently in California, school finance tops the list of PTA priorities. Last November the Board of Managers of the California State PTA voted to work for "adequate financing of California public schools to insure a quality educational program for every pupil." In addition, PTA encouraged legislators to provide "maximum local control which would include, but not be limited to, the setting of budget priorities, establishing education policy and development of personnel evaluation policy." State legislators, local PTA unit members, and the public at large were advised of state PTA intent by a news release to major newspapers throughout the state.

Since the Legislature convened last December for the current session, state PTA advocates have carried on lobbying activities in Sacramento. Chief among these has been helping to draft the scool financial relief legislation incorporated into the Dills Bill, SB234. Throughout the process, state PTA advocates have encouraged local unit members to study the proposed legislation and address comments and concerns not only to Assembly and Senate education committee members but also to their own legislators, who will vote ultimately on the measure when it reaches the Assembly and Senate floors.

An explanation of the bill as well as an update on it and other pending legislation of interest to PTA members will be presented March 31, by the two California State PTA legislative advocates, Chris Adams, advocate for education, and Edna Sawtell, advocate for public welfare and legislation coordinator. Former Legislation Coordinator Donetta Spink, now vice president for education, assists. Adams, Sawtell and Spink are part of 17th District PTA's third annual spring mini-convention, from 8:45 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. at the Burlingame United Methodist Church at Howard Avenue and El Camino Real in Burlingame. Registration fee $1.25; lunch is $3. Call 756-8786 (North County), 697-2621 (Mid-County) or 366-0871 (South County) for details.

Other high PTA priority areas include sessions on school finance, dealing with school boards, school site councils, volunteer involvement in the schools, juvenile justice and management skills as applied to PTA. Advocate Adams will participate in the session on school finance, along with California State PTA President Virginia Macy, also a former state PTA legislative advocate.

School board involvement will be explored by school board member Virginia Birdsall, state PTA vice president for membership and organization. The place of PTA "in," "with," and "as" a school site council will be explored by Mrs. Macy and Mrs. Spink.

Two local women, Jeanne Altizio and Marlene McBride of South San Francisco, will conduct the session on volunteer involvement, detailing it from their personal experiences with the South San Francisco Unified School District.

The subject of juvenile justice, primary focus of the original National Congress, will be updated by a panel of knowledgeable people, including Phil Bray, coordinator of welfare and attendance of the San Mateo County Office of Education; Adams, who has spent many years working in and for the juvenile system of the state; Nick Crusick, South San Francisco school administrator; Helen Hausman, school board member in the Sequoia Union High School District and former PTA president of the Menlo-Atherton High School PTA; and Ms. Batya Miller of South San Francisco, a worker with Tri-City Alternatives.

The session on management skills as applied to PTA will be conducted by Arlene Solomon, secretary of the state PTA, and Ruth Galindo of Daly City, president of 17th District PTA.

On the national PTA scene, TV awareness is top priority. Recently the National PTA TV Action Center issued its spring Prime Time Program Review Guide, lauding highly "Little House on the Prairie," "The Waltons," "60 Minutes," "Lifeline," and "Eight Is Enough."

Locally, Reviewing Stand/North, the Bay Area-based, inter-district mass media committee of the state PTA, offers its fourth annual Mass Media Conference March 14 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the San Leandro Cable TV Studio, at the end of Marina Boulevard in San Leandro.

Topics include: "News" as seen on Channel 4, KRON-TV, with a representative from the station to explore how news stories are selected, edited and finally presented; "Mail," as handled by Channel 5, KPIX, whose station representative will explain how queries, comments and criticism are handled; "You on TV," with program managers from channel 2, KTVU, and channel 60, KSCM, to explain how local groups can make use of public service time and be represented on station advisory boards; and "Ads," where the money is, with an advertising executive to explain how and why TV shows are selected for sponsorship. Registration fee is $4 at the door, lunch included. Call 697-2621 for more information.

When Hearst and Birney set out to awaken interest in the welfare of all children, specifically juvenile diet and working conditions at the turn of the century, I doubt if either would have foreseen the enormous range of PTA activity today. From health education to TV awareness, from financing public schools to providing programs and experiences for the exceptional, PTA works for all children everywhere. Although its years are many, 82 to be exact, its purpose is far from old. Happy birthday and many more, PTA.

CCS Rankings Were Wrong

Terra Nova Advances to the TOC

TAKING HOME THE NETS

Terra Nova High forward Patty Juergens, hoisted on the shoulders of her teammates, cuts down a net after the Tigers' big 60-44 win in the Central Coast Section girls' basketball championship game over the weekend in Santa Clara. Among Juergens' supporters is Becky Myers (lower right), who was named All-Tournament MVP; Juergens was also an All-Tournament selection.

By CHRISTOPHER STAVE

"Not bad for an unranked team, eh?" said Terra Nova High guard Becky Myers — and indeed, the way Central Coast Section girls' basketball teams are ranked can now be regarded as a joke.

For a long time this season, until an irate local reporter made a complaining telephone call to the powers that rank, Terra Nova wasn't even listed in the CCS' top 15.

The ranking was done in the Santa Clara Valley, and the folks there took a rather parochial view of San Mateo County teams.

But after last Saturday night, the parochialism may disappear. Because in the CCS title game at Buchser High, Terra Nova won. Not just won. Won big.

St. Francis had been ranked No. 1 all along, which is not surprising since the Lancers are very good and carried a 27-0 record into the final.

But after a close first half Terra Nova just overpowered the Lancers, building up an 18-point lead in the fourth quarter and winning 60-44.

In the third-place game, Capuchino, victim of a controversial non-call in the last second, dropped a 47-46 decision to Region IV champion Aptos.

Capuchino, which finished the season at 16-12, and got an at-large CCS berth, really gave locals the last laugh. The Mustangs had been entirely overlooked.

"After all," said Mustang guard Roseann Quinn, "we didn't WIN anything. We didn't win the Mid-Peninsula League (Crestmoor did). We didn't win Region I (Terra Nova did). And we didn't win here."

But Cap did win in Santa Clara — dumping No. 2-ranked Los Gatos the first night, losing to St. Francis the next and rallying to nearly beat No. 3-ranked Aptos Saturday night.

That, also, is not bad for an unranked team.

By virtue of its CCS title, Terra Nova now advances to the Tournament of Champions in the East Bay; the TOC is the nearest thing California has to a state tournament. Terra Nova (26-2) will open against Washington of San Francisco (19-0) Thursday at 4:30 p.m. at Chabot College.

If the Tigers win Thursday, they will go on to the round of four at the Oakland Coliseum Arena.

St. Francis, with many juniors on the roster, is probably a year away from reaching its potential. But the Lancers had a lot going for them this season — and to most foes they were overpowering.

They filled a gym with good shooters. Their rebounding was tough — particularly with 6-3 center Sue Kelley in the middle. The Lancers' pressure defense was stifling, their fast break precise and devastating.

But Terra Nova couldn't be pressured, couldn't be pressed — and with a front line measuring 6-1, 6-0, 5-11, wasn't about to be outrebounded.

Becky Myers is Terra Nova's star, a bona fide ace with standout skills that made her MVP of the All-Tourney team. But the other Tigers are hardly negligible, and it was their contributions that put Terra Nova ahead to stay early in the game.

Center Terri Campbell and forwards Patty and MaryAnne Juergens were more involved in the offense than they'd been in previous games, which took a big load off Myers.

The Tigers also played a near-flawless matchup zone defense, so effective inside that Kelley only got three points the whole night. St. Francis shot only 33 percent from the floor. The Lancers are usually tough on the offensive boards, but Saturday only put three follow shots home.

St. Francis can usually rely too on its trapping press and defense, but sophomore Terra Nova guard Renee Sandell was unaffected by the pressure and quite often dribbled right through it.

In the fourth quarter, when St. Francis tried hard to press in a desperate attempt to get back into the game, Terra Nova just got the ball to Becky Myers in the middle at halfcourt, and Myers often broke the press single-handed, speeding for one-on-two baskets.

Terra Nova outscored St. Francis in every quarter, shooting 47 percent from the floor and becoming increasingly dominant as the game progressed.

One of the main factors in Terra Nova's front-line superiority was the play of senior forward Patty Juergens, who had missed most of the season with an injured kneecap. Now the knee is fine — she contributed 15 points, nine rebounds, three steals and two shot-blocks.

Myers wound up with 28 points. Mary Anne Juergens, a junior, was the leading rebounder with 12. TN outrebounded St. Francis 37-26.

Myers, Patty Juergens and Campbell had gone down to watch the CCS finals three years ago. "That's when I first thought we'd have a chance," said Myers.

"I — and the other seniors — really started thinking seriously about it during summer league last year," said Patty Juergens.

"Mr. Soden (Coach Jim Soden) thought we could do it if we improved our defense, so we really stressed defense this season," added Juergens. "He told us if we held the other team scoreless, the worst we could do was tie.

"Mr. Soden really deserves this win, because he really dedicated himself to this."

Soden enjoyed it all, particularly the fact that Terra Nova could win that way when St. Francis was playing well.

"They were playing well, and shooting well," he said. "They made adjustments to things we do very well; some high school teams can't adjust at all.

"But our team . . . it's almost like it's peaking again. The team changed (and sufferd its only two losses) after we lost Patty. When we got her back finally the character changed again, and it's like we were able to hit a second peak in the season.

"Against St. Francis we played very well — we played to the level I thought we were capable of."

In the third-place game Cap, which is short and makes up for a lot with elan, was not playing to its best level. The Mustangs were playing their eighth post season playoff game, and maybe they had the blahs.

In any case Aptos pressured Cap into 12 first-half turnovers, and ran so well it hardly ever had to run a set offense. Aptos led 31-17 at half, and the game looked like a route.

Suddenly Cap came to life and just wilted the Mariners. Quinn, a 5-5 junior guard, got hot, hitting four quick buckets in the third quarter and feeding center Jamie Maule for another. The Mustangs picked up their rebounding, and guard Terry Forsell kept the rally alive with two buckets, a steal and an assist.

Aptos scored only four points in the quarter, and going into the last eight minutes Cap trailed by only two, 35-33.

It was a dogfight then. Maule tied it at 35-all, then Aptos went back up by four. Quinn drove for a bucket, then set up Maule with backwards over-the-head flip pass and Maule drew a foul. She hit both shots to tie the game. Again Aptos went ahead. Again Quinn drove, was fouled and hit both shots to tie.

Aptos kept inching ahead on Mary McNulty's outside shooting, and Quinn kept taking charge at the other end.

With 0:03 remaining and Aptos up 47-46, Cap got a jump ball 15 feet from the basket, won the tip . . . Kim Jacklich went up for the last shot, the shot was blocked and it deemed Jacklich was fouled but no foul was called.

The official under the basket said he hadn't been watching and the other official said it hadn't been his call, according to the Mustangs, who were livid.

The Aptos player involved swore she'd committed no foul.

In any case Quinn wound up with 19 points (17 in the second half) and an All-Tourney spot. Maule, a senior, finished with 15 points and 13 rebounds and Forsell, another senior, added 10 points and five rebounds.

Indians Go Out With Style

By PAUL SALVONI

PALO ALTO — Jefferson High's basketball team didn't win its final game of the season Saturday night. But sometimes winning isn't everything.

The important thing was, Jefferson went out in style. Trailing by 11 points in the third quarter, the Indians didn't quit. Jeff rallied to tie Saratoga in the final two minutes of the teams' consolation title game at Stanford's Roscoe Maples Pavilion. Saratoga finally prevailed when guard John O'Connell made two free throws with no time left on the clock for an 86-84 Falcon victory.

But the Indians certainly weren't hanging their heads in their postgame locker room.

"We played a total of seven playoff games, and we won four of them," noted Jeff Coach Bud Bresnahan. "I look at it this way: how many goals can you set, and how many can you expect to accomplish? We did what we wanted to do: we won our league title, and we won 20 games."

(Jeff won the North Peninsula League championship with a record of 15-1, including two NPL playoff wins. The Indians finished the season 22-7 overall.)

At the beginning of the season, did the Indians have any idea they would get so far?

"They (the NPL coaches) said we would finish second," said Jeff guard Richard Rodgers. "We said no way."

"We knew we could win the North," said Indian guard Darryl Jackson — who, fittingly, capped a brilliant season with a career-high 31 points. "I don't know if we thought we'd get this far."

"I'm just happy we made it this far," said Jeff guard Ernie Dupree, who gunned in 24 points, giving the 6-0 junior a total of 57 in the Indians' last two games. "What hurt us this year was our lack of height. But I hope we'll be back next year."

The way Saturday night's game started out, it looked like a classic case of the season being one game too long for both teams. Both teams shot poorly in the first quarter, which ended with Saratoga ahead 13-10.

But that was not a prelude of things to come. As it turned out, each team might have hit the century mark had it shot well in the opening stanza.

Guard Randy Arrillaga eventually finished with 25 points and frontliner Marty Abate, a promising sophomore, added 23 for the Falcons. But Arrillaga picked up his fourth foul seven seconds into the fourth quarter, had to ride the bench for a while and scored only eight of his points in the second half.

Saratoga led 76-67 with less than four minutes remaining, but an inside bucket by Dupree and six straight points by "DJ" (Jackson) trimmed the margin to 76-75 with 2:23 left, getting Jeff back in the ballgame.

With 0:27 remaining, Indian forward Ken Mackey grabbed the defensive rebound when Saratoga's O'Connell missed two free throws. Jeff tied it when Dupree tossed in one of his picturesque jumpers from the right of the foul line, making it 84-all with 0:16 left.

Rodgers — who played a strong defensive game for Jeff (often guarding Arrillaga) — temporarily save the Indians when he blocked a Saratoga shot halfway back to Daly City with 0:06 remaining. But the Falcons got off another shot with time running out; it didn't go, but Jeff fouled O'Connell on the rebound with no time left on the clock.

O'Connell had missed four of five free throws up to that point — including three in the final 0:37. But this time the 6-1 senior came through.

Mackey finished with 15 points and Rodgers contributed 10 for Jeff. The Indians wound up making 35 of 63 shots from the floor (55.5 percent.).

St. Francis of Mountain View, the West Catholic Athletic League champion and Region I king, won the CCS title by edging Fremont, the DeAnza Athletic League champ, 48-46 in Saturday's nightcap. The Lancers finished the season at 30-1; Fremont was 27-3. Leland took third place in the tournament with a 70-57 win over Samuel Ayer.

BATTLE OF THE CENTERS

The Gamesman

Ultimate Hide and Seek

By RICHARD C. MOON

Some years as many as 300 or more board games are put on the market. Most of them never make it beyond their first anniversary with the average lasting about three years. Others go on to become real classics and are played by generations of game buyers.

After playing Parker Brothers' "Black Box" dozens of times and discussing this game with many game experts, I am convinced it will become a staple in the family game library.

Black Box is a powerful game of logical challenge, a game of deduction designed for ages 10 to adult. It may be played by two people, or solitaire.

The playing surface is a grid of 64 squares. The equipment consists of 5 balls, 38 markers, 1 pattern score card and a crayon. Basically a deduction game for two players, it is the ultimate game of hide and seek. In this case, one player must hide four (or five) balls and his opponent must use his deductive skills to reveal their locations.

The rules are simple. Without showing his opponent, the hider marks four or five squares on a pattern card which reproduces the playing surface grid. The marks may be made on any of the 64 squares. The seeker then tries to find the location of these marks inside the box in as few tries as possible.

Finding the hidden locations is where logic and deduction enter the picture. It is like a detective looking for clues. The seeker gains information by sending imaginary rays into the grid. The rays are entered by announcing a number from 1 to 32; these are the numbers of the squares that form the edge of the black box.

Once a ray enters the box it can do one of three things depending on the hidden locations: stay in the box, exit exactly where it entered, or exit somewhere else. The hider observes the ray's movements with the pattern card and tells the seeker which of the three possibilities it was. After the seeker finds all the hidden locations, players switch. The winner is the one finding the hidden locations in the fewest tries.

Help Wanted

The following agencies have requested assistance from the Volunteer Bureau/Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County

SPECIAL OLYMPICS — Persons with patience to serve as guides for the mentally retarded to participate in the one-day event April 21. Assistant official also needed for sporting activities. An orientation session is slated the evenings of April 17 and 18. Volunteers must be at least 16 years old.

HEALTH FAIR— Registered nurses and medical professionals are needed for health counseling at countywide Health Fair April 2 to 8. Volunteers will interpret testing responses of participants and provide information and referral regarding medical and health services in the county.

ADULT PROTECTIVE SERVICES — One person is needed in Daly City two or three times a week to accompany a 70-year-old blind man who otherwise can't enjoy the morning walks he loves.

NEIGHBORHOOD FAMILY PROJECT — Speakers are needed in Daly City to talk to groups of parents on various subjects, including behavior modification, parenting, etc. Volunteers should be knowledgeable in a subject that can promote better communication between parents and children. Sharp high school students are needed to tutor math and reading in afternoons.

SENIOR CITIZENS NUTRITIONAL PROJECT — Volunteers are needed afternoons for new center in San Bruno in these positions: activities planner, instructors in crafts, arts, sewing, bingo callers, and lunch servers.

YWCA — Three counselors with previous experience are needed for day camp April 10, 11 and 12 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Training is scheduled April 7.

Additional information about these and other opportunities are available by calling the Volunteer Bureau office in Burlingame at 342-0801. Interviews will be made in Daly City by appointment through the North County number, 992-0957.

A project of the Assistance League of San Mateo County, the bureau shares in the United Way of ths Bay Area and is funded, in part, by San Mateo County.

YOUTHS HONORED

Scott D. Siewald, left, and Daniel Crisostomo, center, receive Citizen Appreciation Certificates from Daly City Police Chief David A. Hansen. Both young men were praised for their courageous involvement in thwarting a holdup at the McDonald's restaurant in Serramonte Feb. 3.

Westmoor High School is in the middle of one of the wildest and zaniest weeks of the entire school year — Spirit Week! Unofficially known as "Go Crazy and It's Okay Week," students get a refreshing break from the school routine and come to Westmoor dressed as various characters. By far, it proves to be an unusual week.

Monday was Jeans and T-Shirt day. Lunchtime activity was a faculty sponge throw, benefiting the Student Body Fund.

Tuesday was a 1960s revival day. The lunchtime competition included four-legged races, egg tosses (with football-style passing) and a tug-of-war.

Today is The Way We Were (or The Way We Will Be) Day — an interesting view of students' past or future. The scheduled competition is a crutches relay race and tricycle races.

Thursday is Hick Day, when students dress as a plain ol' country guy or gal. The competition will be over-and-under race (students have to pass a bucket full of water over and under themselves. This bucket is then emptied into a large pail, and the first one to fill a pail wins. Only one problem remains — the passing bucket has several large holes in the bottom) and a Mug Slide (students slide along a long, wet strip and try and catching a sliding mug of water).

Thursday also is Individual Class Theme Day. Seniors chose Toga Day, patterned after the movie "Animal House." The juniors have steve Martin "Saturday Night Life Day," also a spoof on that hilarious television show. The sophomores planned On The Job Day, and the freshmen have All-Sports Day. The competition for this day includes a Ring Toss, and Chariot Races, with a possibility of a Banana Split Eating Contest.

Although the winner of Spirit Week doesn't receive any points towards the Perpetual Spirit Trophy, they are awarded the coveted Spirit Week Plaque, won last year by the class of 1979. Best of luck to all of the classes, and have a good time at the Spirit Week Rally planned for Friday after school.

I would like to welcome back a group of 17 students who visited Washington, D.C., with the Close-Up program. This political workshop affords high school students a chance to see how government works.

This week-long program taught fundamentals through seminars and visits to the Capitol.

Those attending included: Caroline Alcantrara, REgina Biagini, Deborah Farnsworth, Anna Ho, Angela Jones, Deidre Kilkeary, Antoinette LaBruzzo, Michyle LaPedis, Sally McMillan, Marisa Matteucci, Nina Matve, Yvetta, Russell, jacqueline Ryan, Corinne Schoepp, Kristine Tong, Debra Williams, and Jerry Zarate. Student Activities Advisor George Simon and his wife Lynn also accompanied the group.

I also went on the trip and highly recommend it to anyone who has a serious interest in government. Not only do students get to listen to various speakers' opinions, but they also get the unique chance to ask questions concerning key issues facing the world today. We heard from Senator S.I. Hayakawa and Congressmen Don Edwards, Ronald Dellums and John Burton. They were many others which gave students a chance to sample many different viewpoints. If anyone is interested in the program, contact George Simon.

Bet of luck to Westmoor's Drama Department. In the wake of a highly successful fall production of "The Madwoman of Chaillot" the department is beginning preparation for the spring play, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

Under the direction of Kenneth Brown, Westmoor has consistently turned out fine theatrical performances. Keep up the good work!

Congratulations are in order to both the yearbook staff and radio station KRAM. Together, these two groups of dedicated students put on one of the most successful dances in school history. All work, including the tickets (it was a computer dance) and the sound system was accomplished by the students. More than 275 people came to enjoy themselves, and indeed they did. Hope future dances are as good as this one.

Best of luck to the school science club, The Atoms Family, which is planning a Faculty Variety Show March 9 in the school's Little Theater. Acts include a Gong Show spoof, a reverse-roles "Charlie's Andels" episode, some song and dance routines and a skit on "Classroom Behavior." For tickets, contact any club member, club advisor Wilton Wong or call Westmoor.

Congratulations to Lori Findorff, who took first place in the local Lion's Club speech contest with a talk entitled "Who Am I?" She will go on to compete with other school winners. The contest gives students a chance to experience public speaking as well as earn valuable scholarship money.

Congratulations to many of Westmoor's seniors. These lucky students were chosen by Bank of America as the most outstanding students in various subjects. The top ranking students and their study fields are: JoAnn McGowan, science and mathematics; Kenneth Ikeda, liberal arts; Beatrice Freiberg, fine arts; and Brian Oxenham, vocational arts. Ten other seniors also received certificates of merit for outstanding work in specific fields. These included: Marisa Matteucci, science; Martin Lee, math; Michele Mereier, social studies; Jamie Guzman, foreign languages; Michael Madrid, art; Marcia Kludjian, damar; Maurice Lowe, band (music); Elizabeth Mahonoy, business, John Keating, industrial arts; and Michele York, homemaking. Best of luck to the top four winners, who will go on to higher levels of competition, and congratulations to all of the winners!

INFLATION FIGHTING ideas

"Use Open Dating"

This aid provides you with a guide to product freshness. An example is milk! Look at the date imprinted in the top of the carton. This specifies the last date this item can be sold and still allow you reasonable time to store and use the product at home. You'll find this same kind of dating on many other products. Cottage cheese has the date stamped on the bottom. Egg cartons have the dates imprinted on the end. The places for the date may vary but their purpose does not.

Store clerks know these products are not to be sold beyond the stamped date. The quality and freshness of the food also depends on the efficiency of storage and handling it receives in-store.

While this care and Open Dating is your assurance of freshness and quality, your handling of the product is also important.

Refrigerate perishables as soon as you get home. Then, Open Dating will truly pay big dividends in freshness and top quality for you!

By LORRAINE WILSON, MICHELLE VELEZ, and LINDA LEE

The NPL basketball champs finally were defeated as they competed for the Region I title. The Tribe, led by Darryl Jackson with 18 points, was outscored 82-65 by height dominating St. Francis.

The Indians also had the basketball court blues against Fremont High in the CCS Playoffs. Despite their remarkable comeback in the third quarter, due to questionable calls by the referees, two bad passes, and a missed lay-up, the Indians lost, 65-47.

Jeff's Science Department is planning to raise money by growing and selling plants. Some of these plants will be grown from seeds and others will be brought in by students and teachers. The plants will hang from metal plant holders in various classrooms at Jeff. When the plants reach a certain size, they will be sold to buyers and the profit will go to the Science Department's fund.

Jeff had its annual Indian Princess Rally Feb. 23. This traditional rally was started off with "Victory," featuring the pep staff, and the JV pom-pon girls did their routine to "Push-Push." Following was the introduction of our JV girls' and boys' basketball teams, which did well this season. Then the JV cheerleaders danced their way through "It's All the Way Live." Next on the agenda was the introduction of our Indian Princess nominees.

To top off the rally was an "ice cream contest." Contestants had their hands tied behind their backs and could only use their mouths to eat the ice cream as quickly as possible. First place winner was Charlie Banfield, who received candy bars as the prize.

Other presentations were by the varsity cheerleaders (a cheer dedicated to the Princess nominees), and varsity Pom-pon ("Shake Your Body to the Ground").

Charlene Cheverllera was crowned the 1979 Indian Princess. This year as a sophomore, Charlene is very active in her class activities and is also a JV pom-pon girl.

Jeff's CSF had a meeting Feb. 28 at Activity Schedule and sign-ups were taken for spring semester members. CSF plans to have a hot dog sale, candy sale, a booth in the school carnival and a three-day camping trip to Camp Cutter April 30 to May 2.

Columbus PTA Eyes St. Pat's

Christopher Columbus School's PTA has set St. Patrick's Day for its dinner-dance.

It will be hosted at the House of Parties, 22 Hillcrest Drive, Daly City, and will include a no-host bar and music provided by American Stock.

Cocktails will be served between 6:30 and 8, with dinner, complete with wine, hors d'oeuvres, salad, pasta, steak, baked potato, bread, butter, French pastries and coffee or tea from 8 to 9. Dancing will follow.

Tickets sell for $11.50 per person and may be purchased at Christopher Columbus School, 60 Christopher Court, or by contacting Pat Loften, 756-4096.

Director Speaks At Confab

Mrs. Mary McCoy, Mary's Help Hospital's director of volunteers, was recently a guest speaker at the 1979 Convention for Hospital Volunteers at the Los Angeles Marriott Hotel.

The annual statewide convention was sponsored by the California Hospital Association (CHA).

As director of volunteers, Mrs. McCoy coordinates the thousands of hours of volunteer service provided by 3775 adults and teenagers at the hospital.

More than 1,400 delegates representing more than 200,000 members of auxiliaries serving 500 hospitals in California attended the meeting.

Mrs. McCoy spoke to her fellow directors on "A Coordinating Concept."

Mexican-American Women Meet

The Northern California Chapter of the Mexican American Women's National Association will present a day of Health Education, March 10 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Jefferson High School, Daly City.

The program will start with a film entitled "Agenda Martinez," followed by a panel presentation on battered women, patients rights and right of choice in family planning.

The workshops will cover presentation on nutrition, mental health, cancer prevention, advocacy for health care and sexuality. A nutritious late lunch will be served at 2 p.m. Child care for children more than three years old will be provided.

The program will be presented in Spanish and all Spanish-speaking women are urged to attend.

Registration is $3.

For details, call Esther Talavera of Daly City.

Firms Offer Jr. Livestock Scholarships

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD ★ JOHNSON

German Beer, Food Tillie's Specialty

What beverage goes best with real home cooked German food? A good many people might say real German beer. And that's just why TILLIE'S 'LIL' FRANKFURT German restaurant in Moss Beach serves imported German beer, with more brands and varieties than you're ever likely to see in one place ... One of the charms about the Brass Elephant, a new luncheon and dinner spot in the GROSVENOR AIRPORT INN, South San Francisco, is that there are several different sections within the large facility. "The Gazebo," (elevated) with its wicker chairs and parquet tables; The Library, with backgammon boards and comfortable armchairs; The Den, which includes a raised hearth fireplace and heavy wooden-padded chairs; and The Bar, a friendly semi-circle of conviviality ... A word to the wise about freebie hors d'oeuvres: Check out the exceptional tidbits you'll find at BEARDSLEY'S in Burlingame. Any day is specialty day, when the bar opens at 4 p.m. Dinner service from 5:30 p.m. ... With tax time just around the corner, PHIL LEHR'S STEAKERY, on the lower level of the San Francisco Hilton Tower, is a "best bet" for gourmets watching their budget. Your steak is cut to order — any size — and the weight, in ounces or grams, determines the price of your dinner. You don't really have to be a sports buff to fit into the crowd which frequents BAYHILL LOUNGE in San Bruno. But if you dig sports you'll feel right at home here. Many of the regulars who enjoy the hospitality of genial MEL CICERO and HARRY CURUSIS are avid sports fans, to judge from spirited discussions from tioe to time ... Continental cuisine in a sophisticated manner is the hallmark of THE MOONRAKER at Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. For something out of the ordinary, try the Chateaubriand Bouquetiere or Roast Rack of Lamb Kapama (rack of lamb cooked to your taste, carved tableside, served bouquetiere with a special sauce — for two or more persons).There is also NICK'S for steaks and seafood, and CAPTAIN CHARLES for gourmet seafood in a nautical decor ... Since take-out, home delivery and catering play such a big part at GONG'S Chinese restaurant, located in the Brentwood Shopping Center, a good idea the next time you dine here is to pick up a menu for ordering from home ... Great care is being taken by SALVATORE FAVA in selecting the furnishings, fixtures and decor for his LA BELLA PASTA, an exciting new Italian restaurant soon to open in Foster City in the Edgewater Place Shopping center, overlooking the lagoon.

TALENTED SHOWMAN

Spanish dancer Renee de Carlo, member of Finocchio's fabulous chorus line, Eve-Ettes, has introduced a gorilla strip dance sure to bring cries of delight from the most conservative members of your group. Four nightly shows, except Mondays and Thursdays.

King's Table Super-Busy

It was a super-busy week for NORM and FERN LARSON at their popular KING'S TABLE in Redwood City, with Ampex, the Stanford Research Institute and the Exchange Club all holding big banquets in the handsomely appointed private party room. Accommodations for luncheon and dinner groups to 80 persons and the regular prices apply on the all-you-can-eat buffet ... An exciting before-dinner drink at LA PINATA Mexican restaurant is the Tequila Sunrise (a blend of tequila and fruits). To climax dinner, try the Mexican Coffee ... When you experience the authentic French country inn atmosphere of L'AUBERGE French restaurant in Redwood City, note the quality of cuisine and extensive wine selection, all handled with suave simplicity under the skilled guidance of Owner LOUIS FRUTSCHI ... Speaking of togetherness, the two chefs at JIM SNIADECKI'S SCOTTY CAMPBELL'S restaurant are brothers, Sal and Abel Sandaval. The bus boy is Sal's son, Sal Jr., and Rudy Sandaval, a cousin, is the second cook ... You'd better be good and hungry when ordering dinner at ROMANO'S in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica. Included with the full course meals is soup, salad, choice of French fries, spaghetti or ravioli, plenty of French bread and butter, and ice cream or sherbet. All modestly priced. Big news for long-time dinner patrons of YOLANDA'S, located in the Produce Market, South San Francisco: Owner BOB McLANE announced they will again serve dinners seven nights a week (including Saturday and Sunday) and that popular Chef Jim Castro is still in there cooking up all your favorite family style meals ... ROSEBUD'S ENGLISH PUB, in the heart of San Francisco's glittering "Theater Row," is one of the Bay Area's most "celebrated" restaurants. You'll usually find two or three birthday or anniversary dinner parties in full swing most evenings. Rosebud's adds a party cake that serves six for a modest $3.25 ... Every day has its special dishes at JOHN & KATHY'S in South San Francisco. Owner KATHY WIMSATT'S real home cooking and home made pies are the big attractions. But Wednesdays are especially popular, with a weekly "Spaghetti Feed," which includes French bread and glass of beer or wine for only $2.50 ... DEAN LEHR now has two exciting disco dance contests in full swing at his fabulous LEHR'S CABARET DISCO in San Francisco. On Tuesday evenings, disco dancers compete for a grand prize trip for two to Madrid, Spain. On Wednesdays, dancers in exotic Egyptian costumes create their own original "King Tut" dance for a once-in-a-lifetime trip for two to Egypt. Dinner patrons in the adjoining LEHR'S GREENHOUSE get free admission to the Cabaret Disco. . . . SERRAMONTE JOE'S restaurant is fighting inflation by lowering prices at lunchtime. However, high quality and large portions remain the same. . . . Before leaving for spring training, San Francisco Giants pitchers Gary Lavelle and Bob Knepper stopped by VINCE'S Italian and Seafood restaurant in San Mateo to enjoy dinner with Owner NINA LICATA.

'SIGHTMOBILE' IN DALY CITY

The Universityu of California School of Optometry Mobile Vision Clinic, or "Sightmobile," will be at the Westlake Shopping Center Mall from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and the same hours Sunday at Serramonte Shopping Center Mall, its visit sponsored by the Daly City Host Lions Club. Local and UC eye care specialists will offer free visual screening for ocular defects to the general public. A typical eye examination is done here for Cathy Brandon, seated, by Dr. Nick Choppelas, right, while Lions President Don Fleming, left, and Lion Don Young look on. The Sightmobile visit is the Lions' way of thanking the public for its support of the annual Lions "White Cane" drive, Fleming said.

Bank Lists Serramonte Awards

Three students at Serramonte High School have been selected to compete in Bank of America's 1979 Achievement Awards program.

These top-ranking students and their study fields are:

Shirley Ong, science and mathematics; Curtis Dennison, fine arts; and Marianne Lenci, vocational arts.

In addition, 10 other seniors received certificates of merit for superior performance in specific study fields. They are:

Art, Raul Gonzalez; drama, debbie Draven; music, Ann Hardey; foreign languages Diana Law; social studies, Dave Mackriss; laboratory science, Kurtis Wong; mathematics, Susan Untalan; business, Daria Wiggins; home economics, Theodore Neuner; and trades and industrial, Denise Williams.

The top-ranking seniors, who each receive a personally-engraved plaque, will compete March 28 with students from neighboring high schools. Judging at this zone event will be by a panel of educators and business and community leaders, and will be based on written compositions, group discussions, scholarship and civic and school activities.

First place winners in this event then advance to the regional finals. Second and third place zone winners in each field receive $100 and $75 respectively.

In the finals, zone winners will compete for top prizes of $2,000, $1,000 and $750. All other finalists receive $500.

Altobelli's Problems

Le Pacini

Everyone is talking about the dilemma facing Giants' manager Joe Altobelli at first base, but I feel he faces one perhaps as significant at shortstop.

At this point, veteran Roger Metzger is clearly a more valuable player than the youngster, Johnny Lemaster. Though he may not physically cover the ground Lemaster does, nor have the rifle arm the kid possesses, Metzger, despite his advancing years, as shortstops go, still makes all the routine plays steadily, and sometimes the spectacular ones.

If he's lost a step or so around the infield, he makes that up with proper positioning, which Lemaster still is learning. Metzger's arm is still good, and because he's almost always where he's supposed to be, he perhaps doesn't need that rifle Lemaster carries on his right shoulder and which he may need to compensate for occasional mistakes.

Both shortstops are weak hitters, but Metzger handles the bat better, isn't over-powered as often as Lemaster, hangs in better in tight situations, and he is still fast, a good base runner, and more likely to steal a base when you need it than is Lemaster.

Certainly, however, Lemaster will improve and Metzger won't, and Johnny is the Giants' shortstop of the future. And therein lies Altobelli's dilemma; though it is actually the dilemma of the entire organization, starting at the top, with Bob Lurie. Metzger at shortstop on a more or less regular basis (he may need more than occasional rest) represents the Giants' best shot for a pennant in 1979. But what will that do to the confidence and attitude of Lemaster? Already he's talking about asking for a trade if he doesn't play regularly this year.

Thus, the Giants are faced with the age-old organizational dilemma. Do they go for all the marbles quickly and let the future take care of itself, or do they perhaps sacrifice today for tomorrow, and then hope that tomorrow will come.

What's happening at first base is an extension of that dilemma.

Without taking sides, I want to point out one fact: Willie McCovey, though he's had his dramatic moments in the role is, as Willie Mays before him, a relatively ineffective pinch-hitter. Mays hit only .245 as a PH, while McCovey's currently around the .250 mark. So when McCovey says he can produce big only when playing regularly, he isn't just whistling in the dark. Sure, Willie picking out a bat in the dugout in a tense situation in the late innings would be a formidably scarey sight for any pitcher. But the point is, how long will McCovey scare anybody if he too often presents the fright without the bite?

Do you want another dilemma for Altobelli? He still, as far as I'm concerned, doesn't have a center fielder. As I said last year, the best solution might be to put Jack Clark out there. He has the physical tools for covering and throwing from the wider area, and because he would be getting a better angle on the flight of the balls, might display less confusion out there. But then who would play right field for the Giants?

One problem Altobelli no longer has is the lack of southpaw pitchers. Just two years ago all he really had were John Curtis and Garry Lavelle. Now, with the signing of USC rookie sensation Bill Bordley, the Giants have seven, count 'em, seven lefties, and none of them bums. Besides Lavelle, Curtis and Bordley, they have, of course, Vida Blue, Bob Knepper, recently-signed veteran Dave Roberts, and promising and much sought-after rookie Phil Nastu.

Incidentally, I think the acquisition of Roberts was a fortuitous pick-up. He always has impressed me as a guy who knew what he was doing out on the mound, a man with some smarts (and Lord knows, the Giants can use a few of those.) But what really impressed me about Roberts over the years (aside from the fact that he has, after all, 96 big league wins) is that he helps himself. He is a good hitting pitcher, fields his position well, and holds men on base. In short, he's a pro. And the Giants can use some of that kind, too.

Incidentally, could the signing of Bordley represent just a little measure of revenge for Spec Richardson? Bordley had seemed keen on signing with the Angels, and the Angels even more keen on signing him. But the Giants won the lottery which gave them the negotiating rights to the kid.

Now think back to very recent history. The Giants were keen on signing a player named Rod Carew, but they were beat out of Carew by — what team was that?

Quick general sports knowledge quiz:

1. What's the biggest soccer team I've ever heard of?
2. How big (in inches) was heavyweight champ Jack Johnson's wrist?
3. What is the largest playing field for any sport?
4. What is Muhammad Ali's entire Muslim name?
5. Who is the last unseeded player to win Forest Hills (the U.S. Open)?
6. What common opponent did heavyweight champs Ezzard Charles, Rocky Marciano, Floyd Patterson, and Muhammad Ali have?

Answers:

1. Last year's San Diego Sockers, who averaged 6 feet in height, 174 pounds on the starting 11. The two center-halfbacks averaged 6-4, 190.
2. 10½ inches.
3. Polo field.
4. Muhammad Ali Hai.
5. Fred Stolle.
6. Archie Moore.

Local notes: Oceana's new (relatively) swimming pool got rare national attention in its infancy last week when an American swim record (at this writing, still to become AAU-official) was broken on the final day of the three day Nor-Cal AAU invitational swim meet.

Cynthia Woodard, a 15-year-old out of Riverside, clocked a 49.56 100-yard leg in the women's 400-yard freestyle relay. Ironically, Cynthia's club, the Riverside Aquatic Swim Club, lost the race to Santa Clara.

Woodard, aiming at a place on the Pan American swim team this year, already holds two American records, the 1650 freestyle (15:55.1) and the 500-yard freestyle (4:39.9)

It's an off-season tale, but still worth the telling.

When Jim Sochor, the great Cal-Davis football coach, was in his senior year at San Francisco State playing under the late Joe Verducci and breaking all Gator passing records, he was slated for a spot on the East-West Shrine game squad, honor which would have made him at that time, only the second S.F. Starter in history (the first was All Pro tackle Floyd Peters) to make the team.

The only catch was that if Southern Methodist didn't win its Southwest Conference crown, which would have made Don Meredith available, Meredith would be named instead. The Mustangs looked to be a shoo-in, though, and Sochor's spot on the roster was almost a forgone conclusion.

But SMU went against the odds and blew the title. Even Sochor, however, admits that he couldn't have done better than Meredith, Dandy Don was the Game MVP that year.

'Golda' Brunch March 11

The B'nai B'rith Women, Golda Meir Business and Professional chapter, will have a champagne brunch and games afternoon March 11 at 11:30 a.m. in Westlake, Daly City.

All members and interested women can attend and bring games such as backgammon, scrabble and poker. There also will be swimming.

This social event and future programs are geared to meet the needs and interests of Jewish working women. Beverlee Bartoli, BBW Central Pacific Regional Board member, is the BBW organizer. Joyce Levin is chairman pro tem.

B'nai B'rith Women is an international women's service organization whose programs and projects are designed to meet the various needs of Jewish women of all walks of life. For details, call Roberta Steiner, regional director, at 994-3400.

OLM Women Meet Mar. 12

The Westlake Catholic Women of Our Lady of Mercy Parish will meet March 12, immediately following devotions to Our Lady of Perpetual Help at 8 p.m.

"Rummage sale report will be given, and fashion show pictures will be available for order.

St. Patrick's Day dance tickets will be on sale. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Eileen Barsi and her hostesses following the meeting.

On Exercise

Navy Storekeeper 3rd Class Philip R. Acierto, son of Magdalena R. Acierto, 211 Thiers St., Daly City, is participating in the combined U.S.-Italian naval exercise "national Week XXVI/Sardinia 79" in the central Mediterrnean Sea.

He is a crewmember aboard the salvage ship USS Recovery, homeported at Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base, Norfolk, Va.
